

Mims proclaims Remembrance Days

Saturday and Sunday have been proclaimed Days of Remembrance for Victims of the Holocaust, Mayor Lambert Mims said Friday.

The Mobile mayor noted in his proclamation that a joint resolution of Congress has called for remembrance on April 28 and 29 of the six million Jews and other persons who died under the Nazis in the World War II era.

"The City of Mobile is doing likewise and I call on its citizens to remember those unfortunate dead and to work and pray that nothing like that holocaust is ever repeated," the mayor said.
